Index

The Volta Review Volume 83, 1981

Author Index

Baker, Barbara M., & Higginbotham, D. Jeffery: Social participation and cognitive play differences in hearing-impaired and normally hearing preschoolers—Apr., pp.135–149
Bates, Madeline, & Wilson, Kirk: Artificial intelligence in computer-based language instruction—Sept., pp.336–349
Blair, James C., Wright, Karen, & Pollard, Gerald: Parental knowledge and understanding of hearing loss and hearing aids—Oct./Nov., pp.375–382
Bolen, Dan: Issues relating to language choice—Hearing-impaired infants from bilingual homes—Oct./Nov., pp.410–412
Budoff, Milton, & Conant, Susan: Preschoolers' conception of deafness—Apr., pp.156–161
Caldwell, Doris C.: Closed-captioned television and the hearing impaired—Sept., pp.285–290
Castle, Diane L.: Telecommunication and the hearing impaired—Sept., pp.275–284
Chasin, Judith, & Luterman, David: The deafness management quotient as an indicator of oral success—Oct./Nov., pp.404–409
Childress-Brown, Maxine: Survival skills for the hearing-impaired student—May, pp.240–243
Conant, Susan, & Budoff, Milton: Preschoolers' conception of deafness—Apr., pp.156–161
Covill-Servo, Jenny L., McKee, Barbara G., & Garrison, Wayne M.: Item response formats and their relationship to test validity—Jan., pp.14–21
Dry, Edward: The small talk of questions: A conversational-morphological tool—Jan., pp.22–36
Frith, Greg H., Lindsey, Jimmy D., & Teller, Henry E.: The relationships of auditory processing impairments and adolescents' vocational interest and social behavior—Feb./Mar., pp.82–94
Gandy, Oscar H., Jr., Matthews, Yvonne, Williams, Herma, & Vaughn, Gladys: Consumer education and the TTY: A progress report—Dec., pp.477–479
Garrison, Wayne M., Covill-Servo, Jenny L., & McKee, Barbara G.: Item response formats and their relationship to test validity—Jan., pp.14–21
Gormley, Kathleen A.: A functional strategy for writing: A case study of Tom—Jan., pp.5–13
Green, Kathleen W., Holmes, David W., & Green, Walter B.: Growth of speechreading proficiency in young hearing-impaired children—Oct./Nov., pp.389–393
Green, Walter B., Green, Kathleen W., & Holmes, David W.: Growth of speechreading proficiency in young hearing-impaired children—Oct./Nov., pp.389–393
Hasenstab, M. Suzanne, & McKenzie, Catherine Daniel: A survey of reading programs used with hearing-impaired students—Oct./Nov., pp.383–388
Hatcher, Catherine W., & Robbins, Nancy L.: The effects of syntax on the reading comprehension of hearing-impaired children—Feb./Mar., pp.105–115
Higginbotham, D. Jeffery, & Baker, Barbara M.: Social participation and cognitive play differences in hearing-impaired and normally hearing preschoolers—Apr., pp.135–149
Holmes, David W., Green, Walter B., & Green, Kathleen W.: Growth of speechreading proficiency in young hearing-impaired children—Oct./Nov., pp.389–393

Kopp, Harriet G.: Future implications for technology in the 80s—Sept., pp.350–358
Kraizman, Sidney: Teaching speech to my hearing-impaired child over summer vacation—May, pp.244–246
Leckie, Doris, Pollack, Doreen, Simser, Judy, Smith, Andree, & Ling, Daniel: Syllable reception by hearing-impaired children trained from infancy in auditory-oral programs—Dec., pp.451–457
Lindsey, Jimmy D., Teller, Henry E., & Frith, Greg H.: The relationships of auditory processing impairments and adolescents' vocational interest and social behavior—Feb./Mar., pp.82–94
Ling, Daniel, Leckie, Doris, Pollack, Doreen, Simser, Judy, & Smith, Andree: Syllable reception by hearing-impaired children trained from infancy in auditory-oral programs—Dec., pp.451–457
Luterman, David, & Chasin, Judith: The deafness management quotient as an indicator of oral success—Oct./Nov., pp.404–409
Martello, Arthur: The Ling approach to teaching speech as adapted in a day program for the hearing impaired—Dec., pp.458–465
Matthews, Yvonne, Williams, Herma, Vaughn, Gladys, & Gandy, Oscar H., Jr.: Consumer education and the TTY: A progress report—Dec., pp.477–479
McGinnis, Mary D.: Values clarification—Dec., pp.466–474
McKee, Barbara G., Garrison, Wayne, M., & Covill-Servo, Jenny L.: Item response formats and their relationship to test validity—Jan., pp.14–21
McKenzie, Catherine Daniel, & Hasenstab, M. Suzanne: A survey of reading programs used with hearing-impaired students—Oct./Nov., pp.383–388
McMahon, Michael A., & Subtelny, Joanne D.: Simultaneous listening, reading, and speaking for improvement of speech—May, pp.206–214
Merklein, Richard A.: A short speech perception test for severely and profoundly deaf children—Jan., pp.36–45
Nix, Gary W.: The right to be heard—Jan., pp.51–57
Nix, Gary W.: The right to be heard—May, pp.199–205
Northcott, Winifred H.: Freedom through speech: Every child's right—Apr., pp.162–183
Nugent, Gwen, Stone, Casey, Nugent, Ron, & Propp, George: Videodisc for the hearing impaired—Sept., pp.321–327
Nugent, Ron, Propp, George, Nugent, Gwen, & Stone, Casey: Videodisc for the hearing impaired—Sept., pp.321–327
Pflaster, Gail: A second analysis of factors related to the academic performance of hearing-impaired children in the mainstream—Feb./Mar., pp.71–80
Pickett, J.M.: Speech technology and communication for the hearing impaired—Sept., pp.301–309
Pollack, Doreen, Simser, Judy, Smith, Andree, Ling, Daniel, & Leckie, Doris: Syllable reception by hearing-impaired children trained from infancy in auditory-oral programs—Dec., pp.451–457
Pollard, Gerald, Blair, James C., & Wright, Karen: Parental knowledge and understanding of hearing loss and hearing aids—Oct./Nov., pp.375–382
Propp, George, Nugent, Gwen, Stone, Casey, & Nugent, Ron: Videodisc for the hearing impaired—Sept., pp.321–327
Richardson, Janice E.: Computer assisted instruction for the hearing impaired—Sept., pp.328–335
Robbins, Nancy L., & Hatcher, Catherine W.: The effects of syntax on the reading comprehension of hearing-impaired children—Feb./Mar., pp.105–115
Rowe, Linda, & Wright, William R., Jr.: The use of videotape and voice-over techniques as an evaluation tool in personnel preparation—Dec., pp.475–476
Silberman, Rosanne K.: A comparison of visual functioning in hearing-impaired children and normally hearing children—Feb./Mar., pp.95–104

Simser, Judy, Smith, Andree, Ling, Daniel, Leckie, Doris, & Pollack, Doreen: Syllable reception by hearing-impaired children trained from infancy in auditory-oral programs—Dec., pp.451–457
Smith, Andree, Ling, Daniel, Leckie, Doris, Pollack, Doreen, & Simser, Judy: Syllable reception by hearing-impaired children trained from infancy in auditory-oral programs—Dec., pp.451–457
Spitzer, Jaclyn B.: Trends in audiologic services to hearing-impaired children—Apr., pp.150–155
Stepp, Robert E., Jr.: Educational media and technology for the hearing-impaired learner: An historical overview—Sept., pp.265–274
Stewart, James H. Wechsler performance IQ scores and social behaviors of hearing-impaired children—May, pp.215–222
Stone, Casey, Nugent, Ron, Propp, George, & Nugent, Gwen: Videodisc for the hearing impaired—Sept., pp.321–327
Stone, Patrick: Reading and cognitive development—Feb./Mar., pp.117–121
Stuckless, E. Ross: Real-time graphic display and language development for the hearing impaired—Sept., pp.291–300
Subtelny, Joanne D., & McMahon, Michael A.: Simultaneous listening, reading, and speaking for improvement of speech—May, pp.206–214
Teller, Henry E., Frith, Greg H., & Lindsey, Jimmy D.: The relationships of auditory processing impairments and adolescents' vocational interest and social behavior—Feb./Mar., pp.82–94
Tucker, Bonnie Poitras: Mental health services for hearing-impaired persons—May, pp.223–235
Vaughn, Gladys, Gandy, Oscar H., Jr., Matthews, Yvonne, & Williams, Herma: Consumer education and the TTY: A progress report—Dec., pp.477–479
Wilkes, Elizabeth M.: A description of language development for parents—Oct./Nov., pp.394–403
Williams, Herma, Vaughn, Gladys, Gandy, Oscar H., Jr., & Matthews, Yvonne: Consumer education and the TTY. A progress report—Dec., pp.477–479
Wilson, Gayle: Guided observation: A new program for parents of hearing-impaired children—May, pp.236–239
Wilson, Kirk, & Bates, Madeline: Artificial intelligence in computer-based language instruction—Sept., pp.336–349
Withrow, Margaret S.: Technology to facilitate language acquisition—Sept., pp.310–320
Wright, Karen, Pollard, Gerald, & Blair, James C.: Parental knowledge and understanding of hearing loss and hearing aids—Oct./Nov., pp.375–382
Wright, William R., Jr., & Rowe, Linda: The use of videotape and voice-over techniques as an evaluation tool in personnel preparation—Dec., pp.475–476

Subject Index

Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Deaf
AGBAD membership elects four to Board of Directors—Oct./Nov., pp.423–425
Freedom through speech: Every child's right, Winifred H. Northcott—Apr., pp.162–183
Gifts to the Association: Jan., p.59; Feb./Mar., p.123; Apr., p.185; May, p.251; Oct./Nov., pp.428–430; Dec., p.495
Introducing coordinators for the 1982 convention in Toronto—Dec., pp.489–490
The right to be heard—Jan., pp.51–57
The right to be heard—May, pp.199–205
Audiology
Parental knowledge and understanding of hearing loss and hearing aids, James C. Blair, Karen Wright, & Gerald Pollard—Oct./Nov., pp.375–382

A short speech perception test for severely and profoundly deaf children, Richard A. Merklein—Jan., pp.36–45
Syllable reception by hearing-impaired children trained from infancy in auditory-oral programs, Daniel Ling, Doris Leckie, Doreen Pollack, Judy Simser, & Andree Smith—Dec., pp.451–457
Trends in audiologic services to hearing-impaired children, Jaclyn B. Spitzer—Apr., pp.150–155

Book Reviews

Acoustical factors affecting hearing aid performance, Studebaker & Hochberg (Eds.)—May, pp.248–249
Amplification for the hearing impaired, Pollack (Ed.)—Dec., p.484
Cognition to language: Categories, word meanings, and training, Rice—Jan., pp.47–48
Courageous deaf adults and Successful deaf Americans, Toole—Dec., p.482
Dancing without music: Deafness in America, Benderly—Oct./Nov., pp.414–416
The deaf school child, Conrad—Dec. pp.486–487
Deafness and child development, Meadow—Dec., p.484
Descriptive phonetics, Calvert—May, pp.247–248
Early correlates of speech, language, and hearing, LaBenz & LaBenz (Eds.)—May, p.249
Early management of hearing loss, Mencher & Gerber (Eds.)—Dec., p.485
For parents of deaf children, Naiman & Schein—Dec., p.483
Hearing aids: A daily check, Design Media—May, p.248
Hearing loss, hearing aids and your child. A guide for parents, Miller—Oct./Nov., p.414
Instrumental enrichment: An intervention program for cognitive modifiability, Feuerstein—Jan., pp.49–50
Introduction to audiology, Martin—Oct./Nov., pp.416–417
Introduction to language pathology, Crystal—Oct./Nov., pp.417–418
Nonspeech language and communication analysis and intervention, Schiefelbusch—May, p.247
Learning to listen again, Scott—Jan., p.47
Music for the hearing impaired and other special groups: A resource manual and curriculum guide, Robbins & Robbins—Dec., p.482
Proceedings of the International Conference on Pre-School Education of the Hearing Impaired Child, 1978 and after, Cohen (Ed.)—Dec., p.480
Semantic and pragmatic language disorders: Assessment and remediation, Lucas—Dec., p.481
You and your hearing: How to protect it, preserve it, and restore it, Freese—Jan., p.48–49

Education and/or Teaching of the Hearing Impaired

Artificial intelligence in computer-based language instruction, Kirk Wilson & Madeline Bates—Sept., pp.336–349
A comparison of visual functioning in hearing-impaired children and normally hearing children, Rosanne K. Silberman—Feb./Mar., pp.95–104
Computer assisted instruction for the hearing impaired, Janice E. Richardson—Sept., pp.328–335
Educational media and technology for the hearing-impaired learner: An historical overview, Robert E. Stepp, Jr.—Sept., pp.265–274
The effects of syntax on the reading comprehension of hearing-impaired children, Nancy L. Robbins & Catherine W. Hatcher—Feb./Mar., pp.105–115
A functional strategy for writing: A case study of Tom, Kathleen A. Gormley—Jan., pp.5–13

Future implications for technology in the 80s, Harriet G. Kopp—Sept., pp.350–358
Guided observation: A new program for parents of hearing-impaired children, Gayle Wilson—May, pp.236–239
Reading and cognitive development, Patrick Stone—Feb./Mar., pp.117–121
The right to be heard, Gary W. Nix—Jan., pp.51–57
The right to be heard, Gary W. Nix—May, pp.199–205
A second analysis of factors related to the academic performance of hearing-impaired children in the mainstream, Gail Pflaster—Feb./Mar., pp.71–80
The small talk of questions: A conversational-morphological tool, Edward Dry—Jan., pp.22–35
A survey of reading programs used with hearing-impaired students, M. Suzanne Hasenstab & Catherine Daniel McKenzie—Oct./Nov., pp.383–388
Survival skills for the hearing-impaired student, Maxine Childress-Brown—May, pp.240–243
The use of videotape and voice-over techniques as an evaluation tool in personnel preparation, Linda Rowe & William R. Wright, Jr.—Dec., pp.475–476
Values clarification, Mary D. McGinnis—Dec., pp.466–474
Videodisc for the hearing impaired, George Propp, Gwen Nugent, Casey Stone, & Ron Nugent—Sept., pp.321–327
Wechsler performance IQ scores and social behaviors of hearing-impaired children, James H. Stewart—May, pp.215–222

Language

A description of language development for parents, Elizabeth M. Wilkes—Oct./Nov., pp.394–403
The effects of syntax on the reading comprehension of hearing-impaired children, Nancy L. Robbins & Catherine W. Hatcher—Feb./Mar., pp.105–115
Issues relating to language choice—Hearing-impaired infants from bilingual homes, Dan Bolen—Oct./Nov., pp.410–412
Technology to facilitate language acquisition, Margaret S. Withrow—Sept., pp.310–320
Reading and cognitive development, Patrick Stone—Feb./Mar., pp.117–121
Real-time graphic display and language development for the hearing impaired, E. Ross Stuckless—Sept., pp.291–300
The small talk of questions: A conversational-morphological tool, Edward Dry—Jan., pp.22–36
Social participation and cognitive play differences in hearing-impaired and normally hearing preschoolers, D. Jeffery Higginbotham & Barbara M. Baker—Apr., pp.135–149

Mainstreaming

The deafness management quotient as an indicator of oral success, David Luterman & Judith Chasin—Oct./Nov., pp.404–409
A second analysis of factors related to the academic performance of hearing-impaired children in the mainstream, Gail Pflaster—Feb./Mar., pp.71–80
Survival skills for the hearing-impaired student, Maxine Childress-Brown—May, pp.240–243

Parents and Families

Guided observation: A new program for parents of hearing-impaired children, Gayle Wilson—May, pp.236–239
Parental knowledge and understanding of hearing loss and hearing aids, James C. Blair, Karen Wright, & Gerald Pollard—Oct./Nov., pp.375–382
Teaching speech to my hearing-impaired child over summer vacation, Sidney Kraizman—May, pp.244–246

Psychology
Item response formats and their relationship to test validity, Wayne M. Garrison, Jenny L. Covill-Servo, & Barbara G. McKee—Jan., pp.14–21
Mental health services for hearing-impaired persons, Bonnie Poitras Tucker—May, pp.223–235
Preschoolers' conception of deafness, Milton Budoff & Susan Conant—Apr., pp.156–161
The relationships of auditory processing impairments and adolescents' vocational interest and social behavior, Jimmy D. Lindsey, Henry E. Teller, & Greg H. Frith—Feb./Mar., pp.82–94
Social participation and cognitive play differences in hearing-impaired and normally hearing preschoolers, D. Jeffery Higginbotham & Barbara M. Baker—Apr., pp.135–149
Values clarification, Mary D. McGinnis—Dec., pp.466–474
Wechsler performance IQ scores and social behaviors of hearing-impaired children, James H. Stewart—May, pp.215–222
Schools/Special Programs
Consumer education and the TTY: A progress report, Oscar H. Gandy, Jr., Yvonne Matthews, Herma Williams, & Gladys Vaughn—Dec., pp.477–480
Issues relating to language choice—Hearing-impaired infants from bilingual homes, Dan Bolen—Oct./Nov., pp.410–412
The Ling approach to teaching speech as adapted in a day program for the hearing impaired, Arthur Martello—Dec., pp.451–457
Reading and cognitive development, Patrick Stone—Feb./Mar., pp.117–121
Values clarification, Mary D. McGinnis—Dec., pp.466–474
Speech
Growth of speechreading proficiency in young hearing-impaired children, Walter B. Green, Kathleen W. Green, & David W. Holmes—Oct./Nov., pp.389–393
The Ling approach to teaching speech as adapted in a day program for the hearing impaired, Arthur Martello—Dec., pp.458–465
A short speech perception test for severely and profoundly deaf children, Richard A. Merklein—Jan., pp.36–45
Simultaneous listening, reading, and speaking for improvement of speech, Michael A. McMahon & Joanne D. Subtelny—May, pp.206–214
Speech technology and communication for the hearing impaired, J.M. Pickett—Sept., pp.301–309
Syllable reception by hearing-impaired children trained from infancy in auditory-oral programs, Daniel Ling, Doris Leckie, Doreen Pollack, Judy Simser, & Andree Smith—Dec., pp.451–457
Teaching speech to my hearing-impaired child over summer vacation, Sidney Kraizman—May, pp.244–246
Technology
Artificial intelligence in computer-based language instruction, Kirk Wilson & Madeline Bates—Sept., pp.336–349
Closed-captioned television and the hearing impaired, Doris C. Caldwell—Sept., pp.285–290
Computer assisted instruction for the hearing impaired, Janice E. Richardson—Sept., pp.328–335
Consumer education and the TTY: A progress report, Oscar H. Gandy, Jr., Yvonne Matthews, Herma Williams, & Gladys Vaughn—Dec., pp.477–480
Educational media and technology for the hearing-impaired learner: An historical overview, Robert E. Stepp, Jr.—Sept., pp.265–274
Future implications for technology in the 80s, Harriet G. Kopp—Sept., pp.350–358

Real-time graphic display and language development for the hearing impaired, E. Ross Stuckless—Sept., pp.291–300
Speech technology and communication for the hearing impaired, J.M. Pickett—Sept., pp.301–309
Technology to facilitate language acquisition, Margaret S. Withrow—Sept., pp.310–320
Telecommunication and the hearing impaired, Diane L. Castle—Sept., pp.275–284
Videodisc for the hearing impaired, George Propp, Gwen Nugent, Casey Stone, & Ron Nugent—Sept., pp.321–327

Testing

The deafness management quotient as an indicator of oral success, David Luterman & Judith Chasin—Oct./Nov., pp.404–409
Growth of speechreading proficiency in young hearing-impaired children, Walter B. Green, Kathleen W. Green, & David W. Holmes—Oct./Nov., pp.389–393
Item response formats and their relationship to test validity, Wayne M. Garrison, Jenny L. Covill-Servo, & Barbara G. McKee—Jan., pp.14–21
The relationships of auditory processing impairments and adolescents' vocational interest and social behavior, Jimmy D. Lindsey, Henry E. Teller, & Greg H. Frith—Feb./Mar., pp.82–94
Syllable reception by hearing-impaired children trained from infancy in auditory-oral programs, Daniel Ling, Doris Leckie, Doreen Pollack, Judy Simser, & Andree Smith—Dec., pp.451–457
The use of videotape and voice-over techniques as an evaluation tool in personnel preparation, Linda Rowe & William R. Wright, Jr.—Dec., pp.475–476

The Volta Review

Letters to the Editor: W. Miller—Oct./Nov., pp.421–422; J.D. Schein—Oct./Nov., p.421; A. Simon—Dec., p.488
Thank you to manuscript reviewers—Apr., p.183